Yes! and it takes just a few seconds to create one if your friend is new to BookMyShow. If your friend already has an account, do be sure to use the mobile number associated with his or her BookMyShow account so that it's easy for them to accept the sent ticket(s).

Pending' meaning ?

Our transfer feature is built to digitally mimic a physical transfer. This means that until the recipient accepts the transferred ticket, it will remain 'Pending' for acceptance or be Cancelled from being transferred.

Transferred some tickets to the incorrect person:

You can find the list of friends to whom you have transferred tickets on the event screen in 'Your Orders' section. Besides each individual is a 'Cancel' button. Simply tap the cancel option and the transfer will be revoked. If however, you have transferred the ticket to the wrong person, and they have already accepted it, you can contact our Customer Experience Force here and ask them to hotlist the specific ticket bar-code. Please note that you will, therefore, forego entry to this specific ticket.

Transfer ticket after an event has started:

Yes. However, it is best to transfer the ticket(s) to your friend(s) before you enter the venue. This way, you won't use a ticket that was meant for your friend.

Would I be able to transfer tickets for all events?

By default, the ability to transfer ticket(s) would always be enabled for all events. However, if the event requires this to be restricted for security, or other, purposes, the facility may be disabled.

Can I use a screenshot of my mobile ticket to enter and how do I access M-tickets without internet access at the venue?

No, you may not. Your M-ticket is securely stored in your BookMyShow account and visible via login on the mobile browser or BookMyShow app. We recommend opening the 'Your Orders' section on your Mobile app prior to arriving at the event. Once accessed, our app will save your tickets and display them even in the event you lose internet access.

What happens if my ticket doesn't scan properly?

This ticket works best with a bright screen, and our app is designed to automatically brighten your screen only while the ticket QR code is being displayed. Double-check your setting just to be sure it doesn't need to be adjusted.
